Ike, Dulles Discuss Soviet Plane Attack

"Quiet Talk" Held During Flight To D.C.

Secretary Of State
Flies To Maine For
Aerial Conference

BANGOR, Maine, June 27 (AP)—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles met here tonight to have "a couple of hours of quiet talk" about international affairs during the two-hour flight back to Washington.

They met at the Dow Air Force Base and boarded the President's plane Columbine III. They took off for Washington at 8:45 p. m. EDT.

The President ended a six-day trip through the three northern New England states, during which he fished, played golf, and made a series of folksy, informal speeches.

Plane Incident Discussed

Before boarding the Columbine at Washington for the flight to Bangor, Dulles told newsmen he planned to talk with the President about the shooting down of an American Navy patrol plane in the Bering Straits between Alaska and Soviet Siberia, and also about foreign policy developments.

"The most important—the first item on the agenda," he said, "is the shooting down Wednesday of a Neptune patrol plane around Alaska by Soviet flyers."

Of the Russian answer to a strong American protest, an expression of regret and an offer to pay half the damages, Dulles commented:

"They have not offered all that we consider appropriate under the circumstances."

"No Emergency" Involved

Dulles emphasized his unscheduled meeting here with the President involved "no emergency of any kind."

The President came here from Skowhegan, where he spoke at the fairgrounds and attended a Maine clam bake at the home of Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine).

Dulles flew here from Washington and greeted Eisenhower on his arrival at 8:22 p. m. EDT.

The President ate steak—on orders of his personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder.

In the fairgrounds speech, the President said America's goal is the winning of a "permanent peace and not merely an uneasy cessation of the guns."

NATO Ministers To Meet July 16

PARIS, June 27 (AP)—Foreign ministers of the 15 North Atlantic Treaty Organization members will meet here July 16, on the eve of the Big Four Geneva conference. It was officially announced today.

The top-level meeting between President Eisenhower, French Premier Edgar Faure, British Prime Minister Eden and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin opens in Geneva two days later.

In making the announcement to the NATO session here, Lord Ismay, NATO secretary general, said this would give the American, British and French foreign ministers an opportunity to consult their NATO colleagues on Western strategy and tactics in the Geneva talks.

It would also give U. S. Secretary of State Dulles, French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan a chance to inform other NATO ministers, of the course the Western Big Three intend to follow at Geneva.

Youth Trapped In Car Rescued

Kit Collins, 16, Evanston, Ill., is shown trapped in his car after it ran off the road into Toutle River in a remote area 56 miles from Longview, Wash. Collins' foot was trapped on the underside of the car when he attempted to open the door and escape and he was held in the car 2½ hours until State Patrol Sgt. Larry Grimes (center) and G. S. Howell could attach a rope and pull the car from the river.

'Disloyal' Dixie Demos Aid GOP, Butler Asserts

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Chairman Paul M. Butler of the Democratic National Committee said tonight some members of his party in the South are working for the Republicans and only "pose as Democrats."

But he added he would not try to force disloyal Democrats to change their party label.

"I do believe," he said in an interview transcribed for a ZMBBS radio broadcast, that "in several of the southern and southwestern states there are men and women at work within our party who are not believers in the principles of Thomas Jefferson, who do not hope for Democratic victory . . ."

In the same sentence Butler said these people nevertheless "pose as Democrats and they do nothing but contribute disharmony and disunity within our party and seek to strengthen the Republican party while they wear the badge of the Democratic party."

Butler's charge was made during a discussion of his recent "peace tour" of Texas, but he did not name the states in which he thinks the Democrats harbor disloyal party members. And he specifically exempted Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas.

Shivers, a Democrat, supported President Eisenhower against Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, in 1952. Shivers disagreed with Stevenson's stand for federal ownership of submerged offshore oil lands and on other issues.

Eisenhower carried Texas in '52, as well as Florida, Maryland, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Virginia.

N&W Earnings Soar

ROANOKE, Va., June 27 (AP)—Earnings of the Norfolk and Western Railway for January through May almost doubled the report for the five-month period of last year.

Balance of income for the five months was $12,354,154, compared with $6,239,153 last year. This was a 98 per cent jump.

Pickets' Boos "Welcome" Molotov Back To Chicago

CHICAGO, June 27 (AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov paid his second visit to Chicago in 11 days today and said he liked what he saw and "would be glad to return for another visit."

Molotov and his Soviet party of 55 were booed by a crowd of pickets and several hundred spectators at two railroad stations. But he gave no sign that he was disturbed by the demonstrations. The pickets identified themselves as former Lithuanian prisoners of the Soviets and members of the Don Varnas Post of the American Legion.

Lawmaker, Hit By Wife, Says It's Woman's World

INGLEWOOD, Calif., June 27 (AP)—State Assemblyman Charles Chapel brought his bandaged head and his red-haired wife into the police station of this Los Angeles suburb today and announced:

"It's a woman's world." Police had been searching for Chapel several hours, ever since he disappeared from Inglewood Hospital after treatment of a 23-stitch scalp wound.

Detective R. E. Plummer said Mrs. Dorothy Chapel, 42, told him earlier that she had hit her husband with a heavy glass lampshade yesterday in a family argument. After Chapel left the hospital quietly today, Dist. Atty. S. Ernest Roll started a search for the 51-year-old legislator, saying he wanted to be sure "there is nothing more to this case" than a marital dispute.

"It was just a little misunderstanding," Chapel said as the pair showed up arm in arm in answer to police questions.

Chrysler, UAW Launch Talks

DETROIT, June 27 (AP)—Chrysler Corp. and the CIO United Auto Workers opened new contract talks today and immediately clamped a news blackout on bargaining sessions.

The company and union said in a joint announcement shortly after the talks got under way at 3 p. m. that the closed-door sessions would be "in the interest of making progress and reaching an early and equitable agreement."

Similar blackouts covered the Ford and General Motors negotiations with the UAW.

Either side can terminate the agreement on 24 hours notice. Before entering the conference room, however, Emil Mazey, UAW secretary-treasurer and director of the union's Chrysler Automotive Body Division Department, said the auto workers hoped to obtain more from Chrysler than they did from Ford and GM.

House Passes Bill To Extend Debt Limit Hike

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The House voted 226-56 today to continue for another year the "temporary" 281-billion-dollar limit on the national debt.

The Senate is expected to act by Thursday; without congressional action, the limit would fall back then to 275 billion.

Democrats got in some additional cracks at the administration on its handling of government finances before the extension sailed through on the 170-vote margin in the House.

Cooper Sarcastic

Sarcastically, Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the House Ways and Means Committee said he is sorry the Republican administration "has not been able to balance the budget as it promised to do in the campaign of 1952."

Rep. Jenkins (R-Ohio) replied that when it came to balancing the budget "we're nearer than we were." Anyhow, Jenkins said, it is a question of finances and not politics.

The bill extends until July 1, 1956 the six-billion-dollar increase in the limit which Congress approved last summer as a temporary thing.

274 Billion Debt

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey is due to start the new fiscal year at midnight next Thursday with a national debt of approximately 274 billion dollars, a billion over the permanent limit. However, comparatively little tax revenue will be coming in before next spring, and spending will go on as usual.

Humphrey has said the government will be in a "tight squeeze" to keep within the 281-billion-dollar ceiling. He has told Congress he will try to stay within it, but he wouldn't rule out the possibility he may be back next year for another temporary or permanent increase in the limit.

Segni's Party Backs Italian Cabinet Bid

ROME, June 27 (AP)—Antonio Segni won the important blessing of his own Christian Democrats today in his quest for a government to lead Italy out of another political crisis.

The 64-year-old farm reformer, scholar and deputy in Parliament was asked last night to sound out political leaders to see if they would back him as premier.

He told President Giovanni Gronchi, who handed him the request, that he would try, and would report back Thursday. He said he hoped to get support for a center coalition government that would adhere to Italy's pro-Western line.

Dividend Declared

BALTIMORE, June 27 (AP)—The Glenn L. Martin Co. board of directors today declared a 75-cent-a-share dividend payable July 28 to stockholders of record July 8. A previous dividend, $1 a share, was declared last Dec. 13.

Senate Calls For Security Setup Study

Measure Provides
Commission Of 12
To Appraise Setup

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The Senate today passed a bill to set up a bipartisan commission to make a thorough study of President Eisenhower's federal employee security program before the presidential elections next year.

In a brief debate before approving the plan on a voice vote, both Democrats and Republicans voiced hopes that the study could be made in a "dispassionate," non-political atmosphere.

The whole question of personnel security in the government was a lively issue in last year's congressional campaign. And the fight has continued here after the elections.

Ike Changed Mind

Until recently both Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Brownell have said they felt there was no need for a commission to study the security program. Over the weekend, however, it was reported the administration decided to go along with the Democratic proposal for the inquiry.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the Senate today "security is not a partisan issue." But he declared the Eisenhower program is in "an unfortunate state of confusion" and urged "a fresh and objective study." Humphrey and Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) sponsored the proposal for the commission.

The proposal now goes to the House, where the Judiciary Committee already has approved a similar commission plan. Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), its sponsor, predicted House approval without major opposition.

12-Member Commission

The Humphrey-Stennis proposal would create a 12-member commission with four members to be selected by the President, four by the vice president as presiding officer of the Senate, and four by the speaker of the House. Six members would be Democrats, six Republicans.

The commissioners would appraise the "entire security program, including various statutes, presidential orders and administrative regulations and directives" bearing on it, as well as the measures taken to protect defense secrets, the safety of public and private defense installations, the adequacy of sabotage and espionage laws and similar matters.

Towns Battling Wyoming Floods

TORRINGTON, Wyo., June 27 (AP)—The flooding Upper North Platte River went on its worst rampage in 25 years today in the wake of tornadoes and cloudbursts that cut a swath of destruction across southeastern Wyoming.

Residents were evacuated from sections of Torrington, a town of 3,247 near the Nebraska-Wyoming line, as the river neared a second flood crest.

Last night, swollen by cloudbursts that dumped up to 10 inches of rain in some areas, the river swept its banks and flooded three-fourths of Fort Laramie, a town of 20 miles from Torrington. Flood water in the town was five feet deep.

No deaths were reported as hail and rain pounded a 75-mile swath through farm and rangeland. Damage to sugar beet crops in western Wyoming was estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Mother Who Deserted Two Children Seized

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 27 (AP)—A 19-year-old mother who had left her two children with a baby sitter since June 16 was taken into custody today at a friend's home.

Mrs. Donna Sue Whitson had been sought since Saturday when the 15-year-old baby sitter, Brenda Lois Wright, turned the youngsters over to Children's Center.

Brenda claimed the mother hired her for $15 a week as a sitter. The arrangement worked one night. The second evening, Brenda said, the woman failed to appear.

Two Nationalist Planes Attacked By Red Fighters

Trainer Shot Down, Airline Amphibian Hit

TAIPEI, Formosa, Tuesday, June 28 (AP)—Communist MIG jet fighters shot down a Nationalist jet trainer yesterday and attacked an unarmed amphibious commercial plane in an abrupt flareup of warfare over the Formosa Strait.

Chinese Nationalist air force headquarters said intercepted intercept conversations between the MIGs indicated the pilots were also that fluent Russian was overheard in the directions from the ground to the attacking MIGs.

"The Chinese Communist air force is controlled by the Russians," the air force asserted.

"Unprovoked Attack" The Defense Ministry assailed the incidents as "unprovoked attacks by Communist jets on unarmed Chinese aircraft over international waters." It said the pilot was killed in the crash of his flaming jet when it plunged into the sea north of the Matsus. The other trainer escaped.

The ministry reported a two-engine PBY Catalina amphibian owned by the Foshing Airlines was attacked by two MIGs about 12:30 p. m. while bound for Matsu.

Aboard were four Chinese crew members and 1st Lt. John J. Goodrich, 26, Rayne, La., Medical Corps member of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group.

Newsmen were not permitted to talk with Goodrich. The airline reported he was en route to Matsu to examine some seriously ill Nationalist soldiers.

Pilot Lands On Island The attack occurred off Tungshan (East White Dog Island), 11 miles south of Matsu and about 14 miles off the mainland. The pilot, Chen Kuo-min, 43, who once resided in Hartford, Conn., said the red-starred jets made four firing passes, hitting the Catalina on the first one.

The pilot landed near the island, checked the plane, waited for dark and returned to Taipei's Pinehill Airport last night.

He said none aboard was hurt, contrary to earlier reports by the airline that the American officer was wounded slightly. The Catalina took bullet holes in the left wing and float and a spar was damaged.

Strikers To Get Over $700,000 In Vacation Pay NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 27 (AP)—Berkshire Hathaway Inc. announced today it will give vacation pay to 10,000 employees in 12 New England plants who have been on strike since April 15.

The textile company will pay more than $700,000 to the strikers, members of the Textile Workers Union (CIO).

Seabury Stanton, chairman of the executive committee of Berkshire Hathaway, said "the company has decided it is only fair to follow this practice notwithstanding the present strike."

The strike began over a management proposal to reduce fringe benefits and eliminate a cost of living escalator clause. Present hourly pay is $1.30.

Biggest Peacetime Troop Rotation To Start Today

FT. RILEY, Kan., June 27 (AP)—The American Army's biggest peacetime troop rotation in history gets under way Wednesday. It's moving day for 6,000 persons.

Soldiers, wives and children, make up the first detachment of 10th Division troops who are being shifted from Ft. Riley to Germany in Operation Gyroscope. By Dec. 1, all of the Division's 18,000 troops and their families will have been moved abroad, exchanging posts with the 1st Division which, by that date, will have been moved into quarters here.

The soldier families will move into New York's port of embarkation and begin sailings for Bremerhaven July 2. Other boatloads will embark July 7, 12 and 17. Each ship will dock at Bremerhaven nine days after sailing. Once there, the travelers will be taken care of by the 1st Division's Operation Welcome.

Union's Wage Policy Group Votes Action

Some Mills To Start
Shutdown; Deadline
Thursday Midnight

PITTSBURGH, June 27 (AP)—The CIO United Steel Workers Wage Policy Committee today authorized a nationwide strike, but union president David J. McDonald said, "Don't get the idea we are strike-happy."

The 170-member committee voted unanimously to give McDonald authority to strike the basic steel industry at midnight Thursday if an agreement is not reached on union demands for a substantial wage increase.

The wage policy members also approved rejection of Big Steel's offer to increase wages an average of 10 cents an hour and an offer by Inland Steel Co. to increase wages about 10½ cents an hour.

Meeting Scheduled Earlier McDonald called both offers "completely inadequate in a year when the steel industry is making record profits."

Shortly after the committee action, U. S. Steel Corp., the world's biggest steel producer, announced that its top negotiator, vice president John Stephens, would meet with McDonald at 11 a. m. EDT tomorrow.

At a news conference following the Wage Policy Committee meeting, McDonald said:

"I am still optimistic. There is still time for a peaceful wage settlement."

Then the labor leader, who never has called a strike in his three years as head of the union, said he would not necessarily strike all steel companies at once "if such action is required."

Inland To Begin Shutdown Pressed on the point, McDonald said, "It is possible that the union would make the services of its members available to some companies and not others even though agreement is reached with none."

Inland Steel said earlier today it was making preparations to begin closing down its steel mills tomorrow if a satisfactory agreement is not reached by then. U. S. Steel said it is giving consideration to such action.

Closing down the mills is a costly and time-consuming business. The glowing furnaces must be permitted to cool gradually or suffer millions of dollars in damage.

Chances Seem Dim For Averting Strike

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Government officials in a complete change of mind now feel the chances are dim for averting an industry-wide steel strike this week.

This is a switch from their view of a few days ago that steel would follow the auto industry's pattern of peaceful labor contract settlements.

One official with inside information on the steel wage talks told a reporter:

"We are pessimistic about a strike being prevented."

Steel industry sources were reported still hopeful, however, that an agreement could be reached without a walkout. There was some speculation here that the steel industry may offer some form of guaranteed layoff pay such as negotiated with major auto producers.

Peron's Friend Quits CGT Post

BUENOS AIRES, June 27 (AP)—Eduardo Vuleitch, boss of Argentina's giant General Confederation of Labor and one of President Juan D. Peron's right-hand men, has resigned, well-informed sources said today.

Vuleitch, who became secretary general of the CGT in 1952, welded the six-million-member organization into the most powerful force in the government's campaign against the Roman Catholic Church.

Attacks on the church came to a sudden halt, however, after the June 16 avial revolt. The pre-revolution press has remained silent since then on the eight-month-old dispute with the church.

The dispute came into the open when Peron accused some religious leaders of working against his regime. The church denied the accusation.

The CGT was organized by Peron and his late wife, Eva, and forms the backbone of Peronista support in this country.

Informants said Vuleitch was succeeded as secretary general by

Negro Leaders Renew Appeal For Reserve Segregation Ban

National 'Suicide' If Provision Is Left Out, Congress Told

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—A Negro leader told Congress today it would be national "suicide" if the proposed military reserve program fails to ban racial segregation in National Guard units.

He spoke out despite President Eisenhower's repeated plea against the segregation provision as extraneous. Eisenhower has said it would kill the legislation to expand reserve fourfold, which he says is vital to national security.

The insistence by Negro leaders on the ban was renewed before a House Armed Services subcommittee by Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington bureau of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

"We shall never agree with anyone, not even our great President, who tells us that we must not make an all-out effort to contribute our skills and abilities to the defense of the country in an emergency," he said.

Closed Session Planned

After hearing Mitchell the subcommittee scheduled a closed session tomorrow to act on the reserve program, which has long been hung up in the House by the segregation dispute. The subcommittee was expected to send it to the full committee without the anti-segregation provision. House action may come later this week.

Rep. Powell (D-NY) has said he is prepared to offer amendments from the floor to bar segregation, even though Eisenhower wrote him urging that he drop the fight. The President said the Senate would never pass a bill containing the anti-segregation provision even if the House does.

It was a similar provision by Powell tacked on an earlier reserve bill that stymied House action a month ago. The new compromise plan, designed to break the impasse, avoids all mention of the National Guard, although guard spokesmen objected that they need additional manpower provided by the original bill.

Powell Relies On Senate

Powell said his fight is based upon the expectation the Senate may put back features to which he objects, regardless of the final form of the House bill.

Mitchell assailed the President for implying "that he is willing to settle for using all white manpower in National Guard units of great cities like Charleston, S. C.; Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga."

He contended that under the plan the United States would have two armies — an integrated one run by the Defense Department and a segregated one administered by the states.

Drop In Smoking Blamed On High Taxes, Not Fear

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., June 27 (AP)—A tobacco industry spokesman said today high taxes on cigarettes rather than concern about cancer is primary cause of the drop in cigarette smoking.

F. M. Parkinson of Richmond coupled this assertion with criticism of the Census Bureau for indicating in a report last week that health fears were responsible for the slackoff in smoking.

Parkinson, director of the Tobacco Council, spoke to several hundred warehousemen from the five blue-cured tobacco states at the annual convention of the Bright Belt Warehouse Assn.

The Census Bureau reported about 2,100,000 persons had discontinued smoking cigarettes in the past 30 months, Parkinson said with the suggestion that these statistics should be of interest to the National Cancer Society.

Parkinson said the story inferred that fear of cancer was responsible "whereas we have ample statistical data to support the council's stand that it is the very increasing burden of taxes on tobacco rather than a fear of cancer that has caused this drop."

The Tobacco Council keeps close tabs on existing or contemplated tobacco taxes. And the council director called for a halt on additional state and municipal taxes on the product.

Greyhound Drivers To Vote On Contract

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 27 (AP)—Atlantic Greyhound bus drivers vote tomorrow night on whether they will accept a union-management contract which could end a system-wide strike now in its 82nd day.

Drivers will meet here and in nine other cities at 7:30 p.m. (local time) to cast their ballots. All ballots will be returned to Charleston for counting Wednesday.

A member of the striking union, Division 1493 of the AFL Motor Coach Employees Union said that if sufficient ballots are returned the vote will be considered official.

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—A Warsaw military court today sentenced one Pole to death and gave long terms to two others on charges of spying for the American Secret Service.

FIRE AT BANK BANDIT — Bank President Allan R. Burrill displays the deer rifle with which he pumped four bullets at a gunman who escaped yesterday with loot estimated at more than $10,000 from the Citizens State Bank at Minneapolis. Burrill, 56, emerged from his office as the holdup man was coming out of the teller's cage. His shots, at a distance of about 60 feet, apparently missed. The gunman did not return the fire.

'Back-To-Work' Move Fails On London Docks

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—Striking dockworkers paraded through London's grimy waterfront district today and beat down their former union leader's attempt to lead a "back-to-work" movement.

Shouting, "We will carry on to the bitter end," strike leaders claimed winning over 200 more men in their fight for equal bargaining rights with the larger Transport and General Workers Union.

The six-week walkout of 18,500 dockers was slowly strangling the nation's busy docks. One out of every three ships in six big ports was lying idle today. Another third were undermanned. Officials gave these figures: idle 117, undermanned 126; full manned 154.

The marchers, mostly London dockers with a sprinkling of men from northern ports who came down especially for the demonstration, paraded past the dock gates with banners flying, shouting slogans at men still working.

The mass meeting climaxed a day of successes for the striking dockers of the National Amalgamated Dockers and Stevedores Union.

They drew out more men from the ship-clogged London waterfront and staved off an attempt by ex-union chief Dick Barrett to lead several thousand men back to work.

Limited Self-Rule For Cyprus Likely

LONDON, June 27 (AP)—Government sources said tonight Prime Minister Eden's government plans to offer Cyprus limited self-rule soon in an effort to quench fires of rebellion smoldering in that British Mediterranean stronghold.

The reported plan would be wrapped up in an offer of a new constitution that would leave the strategic island, whose people are mostly of Greek and Turkish blood, a colony within the British empire.

The possibility of eventual independence within the British Commonwealth presumably would form part of the offer.

Even while wooing the Cypriots politically, the government is sending in a 2,000-man police detachment and taking other measures to put down a campaign of violence and propaganda against the colonial administration.

Cyprus became the headquarters of Britain's Middle East forces a year ago after this country agreed to quit the Suez Canal zone of Egypt.

Helen Keller Reluctantly Accepts Public Citizen Role On Birthday

EASTON, Conn., June 27 (AP)—Helen Keller, who has done little compromising in her lifetime, did so today on her 75th birthday.

She spent half of it — reluctantly — as a public citizen; half as a private one.

After a morning during which she gracefully and obediently posed for cameras in traditional birthday positions and talked with the press, the doors of Arcan Ridge were politely but firmly closed to the world.

Helen Keller went back to work at her desk, catching up with her mail.

Actually, the day was much more complicated than that in spite of the efforts of Polly Thomson, her companion, to make things as easy as possible for this gray-haired and blue-eyed woman who, deaf and blind herself, has

Town Adjacent To Airport Can't Ban Low Flying

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—In a decision affecting every airport in the country, a federal judge today ruled that the village of Cedarhurst could not ban low-flying planes.

The village is next to huge Idlewild Airport on Long Island. It had passed an ordinance prohibiting planes from flying at less than 1,000 feet over the village.

The ordinance was attacked as unconstitutional by 10 airlines, which were supported by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Port of New York Authority, and the Civil Aeronautics Board. U. S. District Judge Walter Bruchhausen in Brooklyn supported the contention that the law was unconstitutional.

Lawyers Argue Fanatics Denied Mental Exams

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Four Puerto Rican fanatics who shot up the House of Representatives March 1, 1954, should have received a psychiatric examination, their court-appointed attorneys argued today.

Attorneys Ben Paul Noble and James C. Toomey urged the U. S. Court of Appeals to set aside conviction of the Puerto Ricans who are serving long prison sentences for the shooting which wounded five House members.

They complained Dist. Judge Alexander Holtzoff denied their request that he order the Puerto Ricans examined by a psychiatrist.

Noble and Toomey said that, although the defendants refused to be examined and rejected insanity as a defense, the judge should have ordered such an examination.

Asst. U. S. Atty. John C. Conliff replied that defense counsel did not raise the question of insanity until after the defendants had testified. He described a motion for psychiatric examination as "frivolous" at this late stage.

The Puerto Ricans included fiery Lolita Lebron, 34, who was convicted of five charges of assault with a dangerous weapon. She was sentenced to up to 50 years in prison.

Her male companions, convicted of those five plus five other charges of assault with intent to kill, each received sentences of up to 75 years in prison. They are Rafael Cancel Miranda, Andres Figueroa Cordero and Irving Flores Rodriguez.

AEC Bill, Minus Ike's Atom Ship, Voted By House

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The House passed without opposition and sent to the Senate today a $267,709,000 construction program for the Atomic Energy Commission.

It did not give President Eisenhower authority to build the 21-million-dollar nuclear-powered exhibit ship he has asked to demonstrate peaceful uses of atomic energy to other nations of the world. Instead, the bill authorizes spending 25 million dollars for a power reactor for a surface ship adaptable either for military or commercial uses.

Administration leaders in Congress have quoted Eisenhower as saying he wanted a fight made to restore funds for his world-circling exhibit ship. Presumably, those who have pledged to support him will make their fight in the Senate, which may take up the bill tomorrow.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee which knocked Eisenhower's ship out of the bill, has said he is fully prepared to defend the group's action before the Senate. Other members of the committee have criticized the President's proposed ship as a "showboat" which they say would "pirate" valuable scientists from other more important projects.

The House approved the AEC authorization by voice vote. Actual funds for the construction program must be provided in separate legislation.

The bill gives a go-ahead for construction of new projects at AEC installations throughout the country. And it authorizes five million dollars to start the President's program to help other nations build atomic power reactors.

Meanwhile, a House-Senate Atomic Energy subcommittee released testimony by AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss in support of Eisenhower's proposed atom-for-peace ship. He expressed fear in secret testimony before the group that other nations may build an atomic-powered merchant vessel before the United States.

It takes a ship 15 hours to sail through the Suez Canal, between the Mediterranean and Red seas.

Adenauer Seen Accepting Soviet Bid This Week

BONN, Germany, June 27 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is expected to accept this week the Soviet invitation to visit Moscow to discuss normalizing relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union.

A government spokesman said today the federal Cabinet is now studying a note to be sent to Moscow. The spokesman said only that a reply to the Soviet invitation will be forwarded this week, but Adenauer in recent public statements has said he probably would agree to visit Moscow. The note will be made public after it is delivered.

Train Strikes Car, Killing Two Women

RURAL RETREAT, Va., June 27 (AP)—Two women were killed and two seriously injured here this afternoon when their stalled car was struck and demolished on the Norfolk and Western Tracks by the westbound Tennesseean on the edge of this small Wythe County town.

Killed instantly were Mrs. Clarence Estes Childers, 46, and Mrs. Gracie Pearl Burkett, 55, both of Rural Retreat.

Man Who Sent Widow Obscene Books Gets Jail

BALTIMORE, June 27 (AP)—A Hagerstown undertaker, who admitted sending obscene books through the mails to a widow, was given a six-month prison sentence and fined $1,000 in Federal Court today.

John W. Minnich, 45-year-old father of one, testified he mailed one pamphlet a week to the woman beginning last November just as a "joke." He said he found them in his cellar and wanted to get rid of them.

Judge Roszel C. Thomsen said Minnich's explanation indicated "wanton cruelty."

Postal inspectors arrested the undertaker after the widow had complained that obscene story books were coming to her in an envelope without a return address. They traced the envelopes to a mail box and were waiting when Minnich started to post another. Defense Attorney Hamilton O. Dunne asked leniency on the ground that Minnich wasn't running a "commercial operation." The judge agreed to reconsider the sentence if a medical report sheds any light on the case.

Military Airlift Capacity Of Russia Believed Weak

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—The globe; and the vast troop carrier facilities of the Tactical Air Command use Super Constellation and DC6-type planes like those employed on the commercial trunk airlines. And MATS is trying out four-engine turboprop airplanes—with jet engines driving propellers—for even greater speed and efficiency.

The experts' conclusion seems to be borne out by recent Soviet transportation developments.

Russia sent a two-engine military plane to Prague, Czechoslovakia, early this month to fly India's Prime Minister Nehru and party to Moscow. In late May, a two-engine Russian plane carried Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev and Premier Bulganin, currently the two most important Soviet leaders, to Belgrade for the conference with the independent Communists of Yugoslavia.

In the United States, all long-distance air travel of an important nature is in fast and powerful four-engine equipment.

Benson Sees Price Cut On Low Quality Wheat

WASHINGTON, June 27 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the time is coming when low quality wheat must be sold at reduced prices for livestock feed.

He told a news conference that such wheat would have to be priced around 65 per cent of parity to be competitive with corn and other feed grains.

By comparison, this year's wheat crop is being supported at $2.5 per cent of parity. Next year's crop will be supported at 76 per cent. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices they must pay.

West Va. Turnpike Commission Rejects Union's Efforts To Organize Employees

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 27 (AP)—The West Virginia Turnpike Commission hastily turned thumbs down on union efforts to organize its maintenance employees, and explained four reasons for its stand. But an official of the AFL Teamsters Union claimed favoritism is being shown against turnpike employees and said the union hasn't called it quits.

Rheumatism - Arthritis NEURITIS—SCIATICA

Relief from those torturing pains or no charge. An absolute proven remedy. Only one trip required. Disabled persons may send a friend, 45 South Mt. Vernon Ave., 500 ft. off Route 40, Uniontown, Pa. Office hours: Daily 10-6. Sunday 10-4. Permanently located—Advertisement.

This developed today through a letter from the commission to all employees about 50 in its maintenance department. Turnpike General Manager Okey L. Patteson disclosed in the letter dated June 22, that he and Commission Chairman A. Garnett Thompson of Charleston discussed the matter with union representatives and several maintenance employees on June 20.

In Patteson's letter to employees he said the commission's opinion was based upon its creation by the legislature, which termed it "an essential governmental function of the State."

"... it was further emphasized that any walkout or failure to work because of the commission's inability to recognize a union or enter into a contract, would necessitate the immediate replacement of any and all employees taking part."

Patteson said the commission's stand was based upon these four conclusions — the commission:

1. Is a state agency and the turnpike is part of the state highway system.

2. Is not subject to the Taft-Hartley act.

3. Legally cannot recognize any of its employees.

4. Cannot enter into any form of contract with its employees as a group.

Frank A. Rebhan, secretary-treasurer of the teamsters union in Charleston, appeared unmoved by the commission's statement.

"Favoritism is being shown against turnpike employees," he said. "Some of them are getting less money than the State Road Commission pays state road employees."

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., June 27 (AP)—William S. Daugherty, who lives on U. S. 40 within the Havre de Grace city limits, told Police today his home had been entered in his absence and $1,500 worth of cash, clothing and furniture had been stolen.

The boy gave the alarm.

W. Va. Liquor Board President Resigns

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 27 (AP)—President Joe F. Burdett of the State Board of Control announced his resignation today, saying he chose to quit rather than eliminate himself as a possible candidate for governor.

Burdett said Gov. William C. Marland, in a conversation last month, gave him a choice of leaving the board or ruling himself out as a prospective Democratic candidate for governor next year.

Harford County Citizens Vote Down Hard Liquor

BEL AIR, Md., June 27 (AP)—Harford County citizens today turned down at the polls a proposal that hard liquor be sold in the county by the drink.

Under present laws, only wine and beer may be dispensed by the drink and hard liquor must be bought in county dispensaries by the bottle.

The vote was 5,215 against to 3,574 for.

A total of 8,789 out of 22,000 registered voters cast ballots.

Earlier in the day, proponents of the proposal to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink put a complaint before Harford County State's Atty. Harry Dyer Jr.

They said literature urging citizens to vote against the proposal had been circulated in the county without showing the authorizing source of the literature as required by law.

Canal Traffic Delayed By Train-Auto Crash

KIRKWOOD, Del., June 27 (AP)—Ship traffic in the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal was delayed for about two hours today after a Pennsylvania Railroad passenger train and a car collided at the north end of a drawbridge near here.

The accident brought on a short circuit in the power lines that feed electricity to the motor that controls the drawbridge.

The American Harvester, a freighter bound for Baltimore, was delayed.

The driver of the car who was killed in the accident was identified as John B. Nelson, 58, St. Georges, Del. He was pronounced dead at a Wilmington, Del., hospital.

T. H. Hynes, engineer on the diesel locomotive, said brakes on three of the train's coaches were damaged but did not leave the rails. None of the 55 passengers on the five-coach train bound for Cape Charles, Va., was injured.

Firecracker Sets Restaurant Afire

FALLS CHURCH, Va., June 27 (AP)—A blaze apparently set off by a firecracker damaged a restaurant here today.

Police theorized someone broke a window with a rock, then put the lighted firecracker on the inside sill. The fire burned up the window drapes and scorched the walls and ceiling of the dining room. A. W. McPherson, the proprietor and a volunteer fireman for 28 years, said he could not estimate the damage.

It stands alone in the world today— New Octane Bonus Amoco-Gas

The present epidemic of octane claims is based on laboratory ratings. They are ratings obtained by adding lead. And lead doesn't all burn up. It leaves harmful deposits that can turn your engine into an octane trap—a trap that catches and wastes octane!

Then the octane performance in your car suffers. That's the difference between laboratory octane and usable road octane.

A great, new unleaded gas with an Octane BONUS

Out of the world's largest Ultraforming unit comes the clear answer to octane... a white, premium gas with such natural high-octane value that no lead is needed!

All the high-octane energy in the new Ultraformed Amoco-Gas is usable octane on the road where it counts. It can all burn... it can all go to the wheels. There's no octane waste due to lead deposits.

So you get a bonus in every gallon of the new Amoco-Gas—an Octane Bonus that multiplies itself into extra gas mileage. Try the new, Ultraformed Amoco-Gas—it's wonderful!

Allegany Class Of 1935 Holds Reunion Dinner

Ninety members of a possible 182 attended a reunion dinner and dance at the Cumberland Country Club Saturday night celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the 1935 graduating class at Allegany High School. Twelve of the original class of 194 are deceased.

Harry Kauffman, local attorney, was toastmaster for the dinner, which was attended by two former Allegany principals, Ralph R. Webster and James E. Spitznas.

Webster, now superintendent of county schools, says the 1935 class stands out in his memory because it was the first to graduate after he succeeded Spitznas as principal. He also referred to the group as the "Depression Class, graduation year being the height of the most memorable recession in the history of the country."

Spitznas, director of division of instruction for the State Department of Education, recalled that

The 1935 class was the last at old Greene Street Junior High which burned early on the morning of March 11, 1932.

Mrs. Marjorie Zais Carscaden, youngest child (two weeks).

Also making short talks were James Pitzer, Cincinnati, class president, and Bernard Blough, vice president who served as chairman of the committee arranging the dinner.

Introduced were the other class officers, Mrs. Jeanette Dwyer Franks of Baltimore, treasurer, and Carl Sterne, Columbus, Ohio, secretary.

Skunk Blamed For Accident Near Danville

Sometimes it doesn't pay to try to avoid hitting a skunk on the highway.

About 11 p. m. Sunday, Daniel Hahn, of Cresaptown was driving along Route 220 near Danville when a skunk started across the road in front of his car.

Hahn, according to Trooper First Class Lynwood Clark, jammed on his brakes to avoid hitting the creature and as he did the auto trailing him hit the rear of his (Hahn's) machine.

Both cars were damaged, the wife of the driver of the second car was sent to the hospital, and Hahn still hit the skunk, Clark said.

In Sacred Heart Hospital with a deep laceration of the right eye area is Mrs. John M. Fisher, 36, of 34 Second Street, Piedmont.

Mrs. Fisher is the wife of the driver of the car that ran into the rear of Hahn's auto. Fisher and Hahn were not injured.

Trooper Clark said both men were charged with reckless driving and ordered to appear before Trial Magistrate William Meagher at Cresaptown last night.

Two persons are still hospitalized as a result of the wreck on Route 220, nine-tenths of a mile north of the city limits, late Saturday night. Troopers James Lewis and Robert Wolford, who investigated, said the 1954 Mercury sedan and 1948 Buick sedan involved, were total losses.

The troopers said the 1948 auto operated by Raymond Joseph Doerner, 32, who resides at Central YMCA, was heading south on Route 220 when the machine went out of control, skidded on the wet highway into the northbound Mercury operated by Paul Joseph Taylor, of 86 Dartmouth Road, Manassett, N. Y.

Taken to Sacred Heart Hospital were Doerner and Miss Gwendolyn Ruth Meeks, 18, of 245 Williams Street, both with head injuries, and Joseph Cornelius McNally, 58, of 40 Walsh Avenue, West Caldwell, N. Y., with shoulder and knee injuries.

McNally was released from the hospital yesterday. Taylor, with whom McNally was riding, was not injured.

At Memorial Hospital, the condition of Richard E. Young, 16, of Crystal Park, who suffered head, knee and spine injuries in a four-car accident on Route 220 at Fairgo Saturday, was reported as good.

In Sacred Heart Hospital, also injured in the same accident, is Joyce Carder, 12, of LaVale, who received multiple abrasions and a right ankle injury. She is reported in good condition.

Trooper Lynwood C. Clark said that the auto driven by Young ran into the rear of the last auto in a three-car string waiting to turn off Route 220 into Fairgo.

The other drivers were Richard J. Ryan, Westernport; Silas Turner, RD 1, City, and Robert Leroy Kirtley, 811 Elmwood Lane.

Others suffering minor injuries, occupants of one of the three cars standing still, Misses Nancy and Kitty Duncan, of Vocke Road. They received leg and foot injuries.

The Davises plan to participate in the Glidden Tour sponsored by the AACA from Niagara Falls to Montreal, by way of Toronto and Ottawa, Canada, for the week beginning August 28.

Air Force Seeks Veterans Under New Enlistment Plan

Effective July 1, the Air Force will inaugurate a new enlistment program designed to attract ex-service men back to duty, it was disclosed here yesterday by Sgt. Clyde H. Owen, local recruiter.

The new policy establishes a grade scale for enlistment and re-enlistment for all prior service personnel. The grade scale will be based on technical skills and grade held at time of discharge.

A choice of area or base assignment is also part of the program which favors the discharged veterans. In some cases the policy carries provisions whereby veterans may elect re-enlistment for a specific overseas theater.

Under the old policy, the Air Force explains, it has been necessary for a veteran to re-enlist within 90 days from date of discharge, if he wishes to retain his grade and station.

Under the July 1 program, depending upon occupational skills involved, an extension is made up to 24 months from date of discharge, and only one grade will be lost in enlistment. For some particular skills, where the veteran has been separated as over 42 months but less than 48, he may re-enlist with loss of only two grades if otherwise qualified.

Food Registration Begins Tomorrow

The registration for surplus foods for distribution in August will be held at all Red Cross branches throughout the county, and at the Salvation Army and Associated Charities here, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Due to the Fourth of July weekend holiday, the enrollment is being held a few days early this time, so the certificates can be processed and completed in time to order the commodities by July 10.

The registration times in each community will be the same as last month.

People, working together, can do just about anything they set out to do...

This was the guiding idea behind our first beginnings back in 1926, when a group of Ohio farmers borrowed $10,000 and started their own small insurance company. It was run by only three people from a second-floor office.

Today Farm Bureau consists of three companies—auto, life and fire—with over 2,000,000 policyholders. And the people who make up Farm Bureau have created or acquired many associated organizations.

These organizations may help you save money in financing homes, in buying cars, they offer you the services of an investment fund, and are working to serve you in many other ways.

As a Farm Bureau policyholder-participant, you may share the rewards of an investment program that puts your money to work for you. And through the unique Advisory Committees of Policyholders, you may even help shape the Companies' plans and activities.

That's what we mean by policyholder-participant . . . that's what we mean by people, working together . . . that's what we mean by Farm Bureau.

Council Studies Bids For Tractor

Four bids have been submitted for the city on a tractor for use at the garbage dump which, it is hoped, will solve a smoke and dirt problem bothering residents of District 16. The bids were referred to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for tabulation and report.

Submitting bids were the following: McClung-Logan Equipment Company, Baltimore, $8,000 with $494 allowance on the present tractor; Light and Decker Company, city, $5,914.50; Rish Equipment Company, Clarksburg, $9,085 with $1,111 allowance; and Steina Motor Company, city, $9,160 with allowance of $750.

The bids were referred to Street Commissioner William H. Buchholz and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum for tabulation and report.

Avirett Cites Problem

Attorney James Alfred Avirett brought up the smoke and dirt problem at the dump. He said it is creating a problem for District 16 residents.

Avirett said roads there are often covered with dirt and smoke-bound for days when rubbish is burned at the dump of Oldtown Road. He also called attention to the bad odor.

He said sanitary fill (burying) is the modern trend in rubbish disposal by cities, and that he believes use of a proper tractor and fill could alleviate the problem.

Mayor Roy W. Eves told Avirett those factors had been considered and that's why the city is buying the tractor.

To Borrow $50,000

On another matter, council authorized Finance Commissioner John J. Long to borrow an amount not exceeding $50,000 at the lowest possible interest rate which is needed for the immediate and usual purposes of the Water Department. The money is to be borrowed in this fiscal year and will not exceed total estimate water rents accrued or accruing during the fiscal year.

Last week, council approved an increase in water rates to offset a $100,000 deficit in the department. The money to be borrowed will meet demands until proceeds from the new rates start coming in. The increase is effective July 1.

Commissioner William V. Keegan, looking at improvement to the local traffic situation, proposed the city consider purchasing a property at the corner of Knox Street so the street could be widened at that point.

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum said he understood the building there was to be razed. Council authorized Nuzum to look into the matter.

Johnson Heights Play Lot Plans Talent Contest

Thursday evening a hat show will be followed by a meeting of parents of children who use the playground.

The first edition of the playground's newspaper will be out this week, according to Brenda Johnson and Matthew Coffey, co-editors.

The Teenage Club has re-elected

William Brown president, with Matthew Coffey, vice president; Joyce Keech, secretary; Bonnie White, treasurer, and Robert Driver, sergeant-at-arms.

Last week, over 100 children had entries in a doll and toy show. Winners in the doll events were Ruth Ellen Harold, oldest doll; Susan Wilson, prettiest; Susan Kneriem, largest; Linda Hanifin, smallest; John Long Jr., most unusual, and Joan Hansrote, most useful.

Starting New Life With A Purpose

A millionaire accustomed all his life to the luxuries and advantages of wealth this month will forsake everything to move to the most disease-ridden, poverty-stricken area he could find. This man is William Larimer Mellon Jr., grand-nephew of Andrew Mellon and son of the founder of Gulf Oil Corporation.

Successful in his own right as an Arizona rancher for 20 years, Mellon was nevertheless dissatisfied with his life, describing it as an existence that "didn't lead anywhere." Then, in 1947, he read an article describing the life of Dr. Albert Schweitzer, a medical missionary and Nobel prize winner who discarded a brilliant career as a talented musician to help the natives of French Equatorial Africa.

After contacting Schweitzer and observing his work, Mellon was convinced he had found the life he wanted. With only one year of college work to his credit he entered Tulane University at New Orleans as a pre-medical student at the age of 37. By spending his vacations traveling all over the world in search of the most destitute area, he knew exactly where his hospital would be when he received his diploma in 1953.

Haiti, visited on a research trip, was the spot Mellon chose. The population of the small republic is 4,000,000—400 per square mile—with malaria, tuberculosis and other diseases running rampant. The average income per person of this tiny nation is only $40 a year.

With his million-dollar jungle hospital, his staff of eight medical personnel from the United States and his determination, Dr. Mellon should have no trouble keeping himself busy in a new life that will lead somewhere.

These Days

Russia's Troubles

When Molotov smiles, there must be a reason. His face and disposition were not made for laughter, surely not for gay laughter and the photographs of him in the pose of a benign ancient, patting the heads of errant children, give evidence of the torture of his spirit at such unrevolutionary shenanigans. Molotov is the last of the really Old Bolsheviks remaining in the Soviet government. Surely he must sometimes ask himself by what miracle he survived.

When Molotov finds it necessary to smile, there is trouble inside the Soviet Union. And that trouble, as nearly always, is agricultural. Samuel Kucherov of the Library of Congress reports in the "Political Science Quarterly" on this subject as follows:

... despite the fact that the total sowing area was increased by 6,800,000 hectares (one hectare equals 2.471 acres) in 1953 over 1940, that sown to grain decreased by 3,800,000 hectares; to grain feed crops, by 6,800,000 hectares; to groats crops, by 1,300,000 hectares, and to leguminous grain by 800,000 hectares. It also was stated in the Resolution of the Central Committee of the Russian Communist Party that collective farms did not fulfill the 1953 plan for livestock breeding and that an important decrease in the number of cows took place in many regions of the Soviet Union in 1953.

"Strong measures have been taken to increase agricultural production in the face of this failure of the peasantry to cooperate with the established plans. The Party Central Committee and the USSR Council of Ministers decided to sow grain over 28,000,000 to 30,000,000 hectares of virgin and idle land in 1956. According to Khrushchev, more than 3,500,000 hectares of virgin land were sown in 1954 and more than 17,000,000 plowed up for 1955."

The situation is apparently so serious that non-peasants, members of the Young Communist League (Komsomol), have been recruited to work on the new land. Khrushchev will undoubtedly discover that city boys and girls, while they are always enthusiastic about being out in the country, do not make good farmers.

And if they stay in the country long enough, the probability is that they will take on the characteristics of peasants, which is not to produce enthusiastically when there is no adequate return for their work. The return can only be adequate in terms of improved standards of living, that is, in increased availability of consumers' goods.

The Russian farmer works most of his time for his government, generally on a peasant's collective farm. He is permitted to take a share of the produce for himself, for his own consumption and part of which he sells on an official black market. It is to be noted that whereas there is no free market for manufactured goods, all of which is government-owned and produced, the Russian farmer has managed to obtain a share, however small, of his product which he can sell on a free market for money. The official black market is, in reality, a free market, the last vestige of capitalism in Russia.

The Russian peasant has never been a satisfied person. Once a serf, he was freed into extreme poverty and often lost his newly gained lands to landlords and absentee owners. The Bolshevik Revolution of 1917 used as a slogan: "The land belongs to those who till it," but in short order made the land state property. Nevertheless the peasants were permitted perpetual tenure. When the system of collectivization was imposed upon agriculture, the farmer really lost possession of his land. This was resisted, particularly in the Ukraine where millions of peasants were permitted to starve to death.

Of the collectives, Stalin said:

"The last hope of capitalists of all countries, who are dreaming of restoring capitalism in the USSR—the sacred principle of private property—is collapsing and vanishing. The peasants, whom they regarded as material manuring the soil for capitalism, are abandoning en masse the lauded banner of 'private property' and are taking to the path of collectivism, the path of socialism. The last hope for the restoring of capitalism is crumbling."

Unfortunately for Soviet Russia, the system of collectivization has not worked well enough to produce the food essential to a rising standard of living. Khrushchev has shown an interest in how it is done in Iowa. If he came to look-see, he would find that in Iowa capitalism works.

Great Expectations

President's Patience Helps Check Public Opinion

By David Lawrence

EN ROUTE FROM SAN FRANCISCO—There's a story going the rounds which tells far better than thousands of words of speeches and diplomatic notes just why there is to be a four-power conference in Geneva next month, and maybe another conference later, and then another as the western diplomats seek to keep peace in the world.

It's a story that was told in the presence of Sir Winston Churchill and some members of the president's cabinet as they chatted over the breakfast table when the distinguished Briton last visited Washington as prime minister. It concerns some mythical middle eastern country, ruled by a shah, and an unfortunate but ingenious prisoner who was discussing with his fellow prisoners—all about to be executed—some way by which he could escape having his head chopped off.

"If I could only get a reprieve for a single year," he said, "I would promise the shah that in one year I would teach his favorite bull to fly."

"But," said one of the other prisoners, "the rest of us are to have a merciful death. It will all be over in an instant, while you—if you fail to teach the bull to fly—will die a thousand deaths under torture. So better not try it."

"Oh, I don't know about that," replied the scheming prisoner. "Lots of things can happen in a year. In the first place, the shah might die. In the second place, I might die. In the third place, the bull might die—and, perhaps, who knows, maybe in a year's time, I might just possibly teach that bull to fly."

Time, patience, forbearance, the mysterious workings of public opinion on both sides of the Iron Curtain, and a determined effort to postpone, to defer, to keep local frictions and climaxes from reaching the stage of open hostilities in a big war—these are all part of the techniques and efforts, voluntary and involuntary, of western diplomats nowadays to earn a reprieve of a year or more for the world.

Wars have come in the past as a consequence of what seems to be local incidents. No country wants to let such incidents, however aggravating, inflame public opinion. Twice now President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have exhibited this very kind of patience and restraint in handling attacks on American citizens in airplanes. Once, a few months ago, American interests were jeopardized when the Red Chinese fired on a British plane in the Far East carrying some American passengers. The Communists expressed regret to the British government and offered to pay indemnity.

Not long ago, instead of arousing American public opinion to a war passion, the President pressed firmly through diplomatic channels for the release of the 11 Armenians held by the Chinese Communists. Now, in the last few days, when word came to the President that a Navy patrol plane had been fired on by Soviet planes near Alaska and far away from Russian territory, the news was suppressed for a few hours so that Secretary Dulles could make his address before the United Nations Assembly in San Francisco without having his words taken to mean something in connection with the incident which, of course, was not intended, as he had written the speech before he had any news about the airplane incident.

This was a fine sense of restraint, and it didn't impair the firmness with which Mr. Dulles a few hours later told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov about the painful impression on American public opinion which the attack by the Russian fighter planes would make.

But the most significant aspect of the incident was Soviet Russia's prompt expression of regret and willingness to pay half the indemnity. This is subject to further discussion as to total liability, but it is interesting to note that, by a quick handling of the matter, the Soviets took it out of the realm of a crisis which could have affected adversely the four-power conference at Geneva.

The episode may have been deliberate, as Senator Knowland conjectures. The Soviets are still rankling over the shooting down of some of their planes which ventured into South Korea recently. It may have been prompted, too, by a desire to satisfy domestic pressures inside Russia or to show a species of defiance of the western fliers in that very ticklish situation in the Far East. But the world will note that what might have been a dangerous turn of affairs has been averted by the speedy and adroit action of the Soviet government.

Mr. Molotov traveled eastward by train, as did this correspondent. The streamliners take you from San Francisco on Friday night, for example, and bring you to New York or Washington on Monday morning—and the same time in reverse—just a week end. There's time to see the country close up. Maybe Molotov, who has made the journey both ways by train, will find that our good trains, with excellent food and all the comforts that are so noticeably absent on the so-called best trains of Europe, are a symbol of America's high standard of living which no American in his right mind would want to see disturbed by another war. The Soviet foreign minister will discover perhaps that America's democracy and free-enterprise system have made possible the building up of the many wonderful cities he will have passed through on his trip, and dozens of other cities like them.

But already it is apparent that Molotov is learning something about American institutions. He called a press conference last Saturday in San Francisco and subjected himself to questions—friendly and hostile. This is an institution of which Americans are justly proud.

Maybe the Soviet government some day will submit to impromptu questioning by representatives of the people. That's the way public opinion is formed. A different sort of government from that which is in power today in Moscow may have to emerge first. The stirrings of revolution are seldom visible to the naked eye of an itinerant observer. But who knows? Maybe in the not-far-distant future the Russian people will come out of bondage. Maybe they will have performed the miracle—they may teach the "favorite bull" to fly. Then the world as a whole will have won a reprieve from the horrors of World War III.

Do you realize that ten years ago we stashed State Department custodians in clinic for spilling less information than a cautious lama running a Tibetan prayer-wheel backward in an eclipse of the moon?

Johnson Maneuver Separated GOP Isolationists From Rest Of Party

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—A running news story must of necessity be hurried. For that reason the public didn't get the full significance and human detail of last week's debate which annihilated Senator McCarthy when he tried to force President Eisenhower to discuss liberation of Poland-Czechoslovakia-Hungary, at the Big Four conference.

It was one of the most significant debates in a decade. What it did was demolish the Isolationist wing of the Republican Party. It also drove a bulldozer over certain parts of the Republican platform, leaving it as flat as tornado-struck Utah, Kansas.

It was featured as a victory for Eisenhower. It was really a victory for the shrewd Texan who pilots Democratic forces in the Senate, Lyndon Johnson.

The last thing the Republicans wanted was a vote on the McCarthy resolution. The last thing many of them wanted was to vote against their own friend from Wisconsin. Senator Johnson knew this, knew he had a chance to make them repudiate their own Republican platform, knew they would have to give up calling Democrats Communists. And he forced the vote.

Hoover On Spot

One day before the vote, Johnson even forced Herbert Hoover Jr., Acting Secretary of State, to testify against the McCarthy resolution requiring Eisenhower to demand the liberation of satellite countries. Young Hoover didn't want to testify, sent word he had another engagement.

"Put him on the phone," said Lyndon.

"You haven't got an engagement that important," he told Hoover.

Hoover hadn't. He testified. He went on record against McCarthy and his resolution, against tying the hands of the President re the satellite countries.

Then began the debate. Joe McCarthy, who hadn't had so much publicity since he was censured, read the Republican Party platform to his colleagues. Clearly and vigorously it called for the liberation of satellite people behind the Iron Curtain.

"We shall again make liberty into a beacon-light of hope that will penetrate the dark places," Joe read the Republican platform. "It will mark the end of the negative, futile, and immoral policy of confinement which abandons countless human beings to a despotism and godless terrorism."

"Today," continued McCarthy, "I am giving the Republican Senators a chance to live up to that campaign pledge."

"The Democratic Senators can vote against the resolution," McCarthy goaded, "because they had no such campaign platform. But the Republican Senators made that campaign pledge and it was a solemn compact with the American people."

McCarthy's Old Friend

Up rose Senator Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa. Three years before, when Governor Tom Dewey had persuaded Eisenhower to meet the McCarthy issue early and make a speech at Milwaukee taking issue with McCarthy, Hickenlooper had joined two other Republicans in hiring a special plane, catching up with Ike's campaign train and persuading him not to censure McCarthy at Milwaukee.

Republicans, they argued, had to stick together, also McCarthy was a great campaigner against the Democrats.

As a result, Eisenhower took the McCarthy criticism out of his Milwaukee speech.

But last week on the Senate floor Hickenlooper rebuffed his old friend.

"I do not agree with the junior Senator from Wisconsin," he said, "that by and large the Democratic members of this body are in favor of appeasement in respect to Communism."

"I wish to say that I have the greatest confidence in and respect for my Democratic colleagues and I would be the last to say that any is an appeaser as far as Communism is concerned."

There was more debate. McCarthy re-read the Republican platform "looking forward to the genuine independence of these captive people."

"In my book," he goaded, "a campaign promise is a solemn contract with the American people. I campaigned from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from New Orleans to St. Paul and I quoted this campaign pledge I promised that the days of appeasement were ended, that there was a new day really dawning."

Eisenhower's Record

Up rose Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana, a Republican who had voted to defend McCarthy during the censure resolution.

"I should like to ask the Senator some questions and I hope he will not become excited or angry about them," said Capehart. "My question is: Wherein have President Eisenhower, the Secretary of State or the Republican Congress at any time failed to live up to their obligations? In what way have they appeared or done something that would give comfort to the Communists?"

McCarthy at first did not reply. Capehart pressed for an answer. "Name one instance," he demanded.

"Will the Senator let me finish?" protested McCarthy.

"Wherein have the President or the Congress given comfort to the Communists?" pressed the Senator from Indiana.

Backed into a corner, McCarthy turned on his old friend. He knew his answer would be of no help to his own Republican Party, but he let Capehart have it.

"The Korean armistice was appeasement," he shot back. "Giving up the Tachen Islands was appeasement. Giving up northern Indo-China was appeasement. But a further example of appeasement is what the Senate is encouraging today."

Further discussion followed. It began to get warm.

"Will the Senator listen to me and be quiet for a minute?" remonstrated McCarthy.

"All the Senator did was to take what Undersecretary of State Hoover said yesterday and make it part of the resolution," argued Capehart.

"Will the Senator wait while I answer his question?"

"Yes," agreed Capehart.

"Please try to be quiet while I answer," snapped McCarthy.

"I do not like to have the Senator accuse me and other Republican Senators," snapped Capehart.

"Will the Senator now be quiet?" shouted McCarthy.

"The Senator said he was not going to become excited," soothed the man who had voted for him on censure.

At this point Johnson of Texas, the man who had forced the Republicans to face the issue, intervened to ask that the Senate get back to a vote on the resolution.

The vote that followed—77 to 4—was not merely a vote against McCarthy and for Eisenhower. It was also Johnson's device for debunking the Republican charge of Communism against the Democrats.

In The Moscow Skies

By Stewart Alsop

MOSCOW

On Tuesday of last week there was an impressive display here of Soviet technological achievement. On the morning before the afternoon reception for Indian Prime Minister Nehru in the Moscow Stadium, between 150 and 200 of the newest type Soviet jet aircraft were flown over Moscow.

The flights were largely concentrated in the area between Tushino airport and the Kremlin. They took place for the most part shortly before noon. There is no available breakdown here of the number and type of planes flown. But there were numerous large new turbo-prop bombers of the type believed in the West to be adapted for air refueling purposes. There were particularly large flights of the two-engine medium bomber known in the West as the Badger. And there were large flights of fighter aircraft, including the advanced type known in the West as the Farmer.

The very large four-engine bomber known in the West as the Bison was not observed on Tuesday. But flights of a dozen or so of this aircraft, perhaps the most impressive Soviet achievement in the field of airpower, have been observed on more than one occasion since the now famous May overflights. Indeed, the Tuesday overflights were exceptional only in that more planes were flown than usual. Flights of the new Soviet jet planes, usually at around 11 o'clock in the morning or around 4 o'clock in the afternoon, have become almost routine in recent weeks.

These flights are presumably in preparation for the display of Soviet airpower scheduled for Red Air Force Day. The date for Red Air Force Day has not been set, but it is expected to take place on a Sunday early in July. No new types have been flown since the May overflights. But it would obviously not be surprising if new Soviet aircraft models of advanced design were displayed on Red Air Force Day. It is possible, for example, that the delta-wing aircraft of radical design and revolutionary performance, about which there have been rumors in the foreign press, might be flown. But this is, of course, the sheerest speculation.

So, of course, is any attempt to interpret the reasons for the overflights. But what is sometimes overlooked in Washington is that these flights are witnessed not only by a comparative handful of foreigners but by millions of Soviet citizens in this metropolis.

By a brilliant and concentrated propaganda campaign, the Soviet people have become profoundly convinced that the peace will never be broken by the Soviet government but only by foreign aggressors. The overflights provide one way of further convincing the Soviet people that the government has the means to prevent this from happening.

The Soviet government must also of course by entirely aware that foreign observers witness the overflights. To put the matter colloquially, the overflights provide a way of saying, "Look, if you want to get tough, we can get tough too."

At any rate, the planes now being flown by the Red Air Force unquestionably represent a genuine triumph of Soviet technology. It is impossible even to speculate intelligently on the economic cost of this achievement.

But the resources of this immense country are very great, and can be concentrated to achieve a single end in a way most difficult to repeat in the United States. As soon as the Soviet Union broke the American atomic monopoly, it should have been obvious that they would concentrate their resources to achieve an efficient means of delivery. And their technological triumph in the nuclear field should have foreshadowed a similar triumph in the field of air power.

At the very least, the overflights here should provide a brake on Western smugness, and especially on the particular brand of smugness enjoyed in Washington. The United States has a national habit of judging national power in terms of the number of automobiles per thousand, or even in terms of the elegance of the plumbing. There is no doubt that there are more cars in the United States than here and that the plumbing is superior. But a better index of true national power is to be found in the remarkable aircraft which now regularly appear in the Moscow skies.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

A medico says an ice-cold bath is a good brain stimulant. Any person who'd take one, we'd say, certainly needs just that.

Zadok Dumkopf has just returned a sun dial he bought. Found out he couldn't set it forward to Daylight Saving Time.

Some Suggestions To Help Avoid Tourist Trouble

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Diarrhea is a common ailment among summer tourists, especially those who go abroad or visit our neighbors to the south. Contaminated food usually is blamed but there is an equal chance the traveler himself has been indiscreet in his eating and drinking habits. In other instances, diarrhea is caused by the oils and herbs used in preparing foreign dishes and is not on an infectious basis.

Some good advice was given by an international medical expert, Dr. Fritz von Mohr, who was quoted in Today's Health. This physician developed a large following among tourists in Mexico City and Switzerland. According to the report, in a single day he treated the people of 11 different nationalities and his patients included not only ordinary travelers but spies and ex-kings.

He recommends that every visitor be careful what he eats. Food offered on the street is likely to be contaminated. Be suspicious of those charming little restaurants with atmosphere unless they have a reputation for cleanliness.

Eating seafood away from the coast is unwise and the same goes for meat that is not cooked thoroughly. Unpasteurized milk is taboo; so is cottage or cream cheese from the same source.

Fresh vegetables such as lettuce and radishes should not be consumed unless washed carefully. In more primitive areas, they are to be avoided because the water used in cleansing them may harbor parasites and microbes.

Fresh fruit may be washed in purified water or boiled three to four minutes. This does not apply to those that can be peeled such as oranges and bananas.

Water is a problem, especially when its source is uncertain. Bottled waters or other beverages offer an easy solution but the traveler must be consistent. Other booby traps exist such as brushing the teeth from tap water that is polluted and the use of ice cubes which may hold organisms in a state of hibernation.

The good doctor warns that the heavy meal taken at the end of the day causes the gastrointestinal tract to rebel. This leads to indigestion or diarrhea that robs the tourist of sleep.

He also points out there is a difference between a cocktail or two before dinner and "a martini before lunch, a couple of bottles of beer in the afternoon, a planter's punch before dinner, two or three highballs afterward, and a final stinger about midnight."

Travel is hard work. There is no sense in walking for miles during a vacation when only half this exertion can be tolerated at home. Traveling with children is difficult at best, particularly infants and small tots; who tire easily and seldom hold up under changes in schedule.

In some countries, half the tourists develop diarrhea. It is wise, therefore, to be prepared by procuring from the family physician before leaving an intestinal antiseptic containing a sulfonamide or an antibiotic and a remedy for cramps. Smallpox vaccination is required for reentry into the United States.

TOMORROW: Frequent "colds"

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

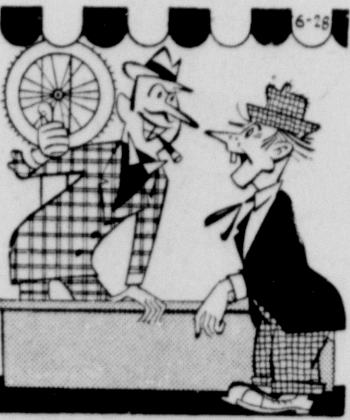

By Bennett Cerf

John Steinbeck maintains that a truly good man doesn't mind being preyed on by his friends if he knows they are loving him while they're doing it. John quotes Diamond Jim Brady as saying, "It's rather fun to be a sucker—provided, of course, you can afford it."

"How much," asked Mr. Lapidus, "is that new hotel at Miami Beach?"

"I'll tell you, Joe, how to estimate your bill," advised a friend who had just returned to New York. "Guess the highest you can imagine—then add 25 per cent!" When Lapidus finally arrived at the gilded palace, he demanded of the proprietor, "Where's the bus that runs between the railroad station and the hotel?"

"That sort of thing is completely out of date," sneered the proprietor.

"Very funny," mused Lapidus. "All my friends said you would get me coming and going!"

Keyser Sheriff To Publish List

The tentative delinquent lists have been prepared and will be published shortly after July 1. A fee of 50 cents on each item listed on the tax bills will be charged after June 30 for preparing the delinquent lists and a charge of $1.50 on each item will be charged after the list is published.

The sheriff said, in speaking generally of tax payments, that tax bills have been paid better this year than for several past years, adding however, there are still some 1953 taxes outstanding.

If the 1953 taxes, as well as 1954 taxes are not paid before July 1, the sheriff said that he and his deputy will take means to collect as provided by state law.

Steels Advance But Most Of Market Prices Mixed

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—Steel shares advanced and some other issues showed wide advances but the rest of the stock market was narrowly mixed today.

In the final hour, steels came to the fore but buying in these issues failed to generate much enthusiasm in other sections of the list.

Brokers said some consolidation of recent gains was only to be expected. In addition, they commented that the steel wage negotiations provided a note of uncertainty for investors.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 10 cents to $172.60. The industrial component moved up 20 cents to a new high of $237.40. The rails gained 10 cents and the utilities lost 10 cents.

There were 440 issues which advanced and 527 which declined. In all, 1,199 issues were traded in. There were 61 new highs for the year and 13 new lows.

Volume was small at 2,250,000 shares. On Friday, also a quiet day, 2,410,000 shares changed hands.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

Jackson's mother had hoped he would become a preacher but she didn't keep her sons from serving their country. Andy became a messenger for the Colonists. His first battle came when he helped defend a house against attacking Tories.

Jackson and his brother Robert were taken prisoner. When an enemy officer told Andy to black his boots the boy refused. The red-coated bully struck the lad with his sword. Andy bore that scar on his hand and in his heart the rest of his life.

The Jackson boys fell ill of smallpox. Their brave mother, Elizabeth, begged Lord Rawdon, the British commander, to free her sons, which he did, being a kindly man. So Andy came home to Davy Crockett's country to mend his health.

Jackson's brother failed to recover and his mother, too, fell ill of the plague. Now Andy found himself all alone in the world with an inheritance to save or spend. Kind of careless, he liked to watch horses run. Naturally, his money was soon gone.

NEXT—Andy Jackson goes to war against the Creek Indians.

Jensen's Clouting Sparks Drive Of Boston Red Sox

Jackie Has 29 RBI's During Team's Spurt

Hit Seven Home Runs Since May 28; Bosox Win 19 Of Last 28

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—The resurgence of the Boston Red Sox partly can be attributed to the increased power production of outfielder Jackie Jensen.

While Ted Williams has been getting most of the credit for the spurt which has seen Boston win 19 of its last 28 games, Jensen has batted in 29 runs during that span to take over the American League's RBI lead with 55.

Jensen, with seven homers since May 28, has taken over third place in that department. He trails New York's Mickey Vernon, the pace-setter with 18, and Gus Zernial of Kansas City, who has 16. Jensen is batting .264 for a 22 point pick-up this month and has hit a total of 15 home runs.

Kaline Holds Lead

Detroit's Al Kaline, however, continues to hold a commanding lead in the batting competition. Despite a 14 point drop to .365 last week, the sophomore outfielder is well ahead of runnerup Nellie Fox of Chicago. Fox climbed 10 points to .339.

Harvey Kuenn of the Tigers slumped 23 points to .320. Al Smith of Cleveland moved from ninth place to fourth as a result of a 23 point gain to .317. Larry Doby, also of the Indians, is fifth with .309. Doby climbed 14 points and three notches in the standings.

In the National League, Philadelphia's Richie Ashburn increased his average one point to .353 while maintaining his edge over runnersup Don Mueller of New York and Roy Campanella of Brooklyn.

Mueller and Campanella are deadlocked for the No. 2 slot at .338.

Ted Kluszewski of Cincinnati is fourth with .333 followed by Bill Virdon of St. Louis with .324. Kluszewski lost two points while Virdon, one of the senior circuit's leading candidates for rookie-of-the-year honors, gained 19 points with 13 hits in 29 times at bat.

Kluszewski hit two homers last week to tie Brooklyn's Duke Snider. Each has walked 23. Snider is the circuit's runs batted in leader with 71.

Ted Can't Qualify

Williams, who missed Boston's last four games because of a back injury, is batting .387 with 29 hits in 75 at bats. He virtually has no chance of batting 400 times, the total necessary to qualify for the batting championship.

Orioles, Tribe Complete Deal

Baltimore Receives Majeski For Young

BALTIMORE, June 27 (AP)—Second baseman Bobby Young moved from the Baltimore Orioles to Cleveland in a waiver deal today and left pitcher Dee Pilette as the only survivor of the old St. Louis Browns team moved to this city for the 1954 season.

Paul Richards, the dealing manager-general manager of the Birds, has been buying, trading and selling furiously in an attempt to raise the flock out of the basement of the American League.

Young, regarded as an excellent doubleplay pivot man, has been in effective at the plate this year. The 30-year-old Baltimorean was released from the Oriole roster by infielder Hank Majeski, who hit .281 for the Tribe last year but has managed only .188 in 48 at bats this year.

Young has been hitting below .190 for Baltimore. Majeski is 38 years old. In nine hits this year, he has two homers, two doubles and six runs batted in.

Death Takes Harry Agganis, Boston Red Sox First Sacker

Pulmonary Embolism Is Cause; Starred On Grid For Boston U.

By DAVE O'HARA

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 27 (AP)—The brilliant athletic career of Harry Agganis was ended abruptly today as the Boston Red Sox first baseman and former Boston University football great died at the age of 25.

Agganis, a rugged 6-2, 200-pounder, succumbed at Santa Maria Hospital while apparently recovering from a chest ailment which sidelined him for the first time exactly six weeks ago.

Agganis was hospitalized for more than a week in May, but returned to the lineup and played in two games June 1 and 2. He was stricken again and reentered the hospital June 5.

Doctors said in a statement they believed death was due to "a massive pulmonary embolism." They said the young athlete "had been making a slow but apparently satisfactory convalescence from a severe pulmonary infection complicated by phlebitis."

Shocks Sports World

News of the death of the "Golden Greek" came as a shock to the entire sports world.

"Everyone connected with the Red Sox is grieved and shocked," Boston Gen. Mgr. Joe Cronin said. "Harry Agganis was a great athlete—a grand boy—a great credit to sports."

Agganis, after a brilliant sports career at Boston University, passed up professional football to sign with the Red Sox following his graduation in 1953. Sent to Louisville in the American Association, he hit 23 homers, drove in 108 runs and batted .281 in his first season of pro baseball.

Promoted to the Red Sox last year, he hit only .251 but had 11 homers, eight triples, 13 doubles and 57 RBIs.

Agganis lost his starting job at first base to rookie Norm Zaichin, a slugging righthander, at the beginning of this season, but won it back after a short time.

Hit Over .300

The big southpaw began pounding the ball and fielding in his usual brilliant style. He was hitting over .300 when he suddenly complained of chest pains and was hospitalized May 16.

Agganis began his brilliant athletic career in his native Lynn, just north of Boston. He compiled a brilliant record as a football and baseball player at Lynn Classical High School and was named to about every "all scholastic" team in Massachusetts.

He went on to Boston University where he continued his great play in both sports, although his football activities overshadowed his baseball ability.

Held B. U. Grid Records

In all, the southpaw quarterback holds seven B. U. records. In three years of varsity competition, he played 26 games, completed 226 of 418 passes for 2,930 yards and 34 touchdowns, and averaged better than 40 yards in punting. Outstanding on offense, he played the safety position.

In his senior year, Agganis suffered a painful chest injury as the Terriers were beaten 37-7 by a powerful University of Maryland eleven. He returned to the lineup a few weeks later wearing a heavy cast on his chest.

Roger Cook Scores For Ellerslie, 9-0

Roger Cook put Wiley Ford on a diet of goose eggs and Ellerslie chalked up its fifth victory in the Tri-State Pony Baseball League yesterday by the score of 9-0.

Cook yielded four hits and struck out seven. Moreland also hurled four-hit ball for Wiley Ford, three of which went for extra bases. Ronnie Cook rapped a triple and double and Don Lowery had a double. Score: WILEY FORD 0, ELLERSLIE 9. Umpires: Moreland and McDaniel. Roger Cook and Bingham.

The Bill states that the parties hereto were married on the 19th day of February, 1942, and that children were born of the marriage. The Jaycees spilled the Optimists in a Hot Stove League game last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 10-4.

Patty, Trabert Register Wins At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27 (AP)—Budge Patty and Tony Trabert—a pair of crafty Americans hitting all the shots intently—won quarterfinal matches at Wimbledon today with Patty proving he may be the man to fill America's Davis Cup needs.

Patty upset Lew Hoad, a standby on the last two Australian Davis Cup teams, with one of the finest, steady three-set victories seen in the 69th Wimbledon Championships.

The elegantly dressed, proudly erect Los Angeles player who now lives in Paris, won 6-4, 6-4, 6-4. While he was whipping Hoad, Trabert was giving Jaroslav Drobny, the defending champion, one of the severest lickings the old timer ever has experienced. This was Drobny's 12th Wimbledon and seldom has he expired by anything like the rude count of 8-6, 6-1, 6-4.

These two victories assured the U. S. a representative in Friday's men's finals. The two Yanks clash in the semi-finals Wednesday with the survivor meeting the winner of the match between Ken Rosewall of Australia, who remains the prime favorite for the crown, and Kurt Nielsen of Denmark.

Jackson Gets Nod

NEW YORK, June 27 (AP)—Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, the perpetual motion man, swarmed over Jimmy Slade with his persistent attack tonight to even an old score by winning a unanimous 10-round decision. Jackson weighed 195½, Slade 183½ pounds.

Health Officer Reviews Law On TB Carriers

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, Allegheny County health officer, yesterday called attention to a law passed at the recent session of the Legislature which empowers health officers to enforce hospitalization of known carriers of tuberculosis. The law became effective June 1, Dr. Frantz said.

The law, he continued, specifies that his office may order the removal to the state hospital of persons found to have communicable TB, and in cases where a resident is suspected of having the disease his office may require the person to submit to an X-ray examination.

"Anyone who resists the action of the Health Department will be brought to trial before the circuit court," Dr. Frantz said, "and, if convicted, will be committed to a penal institution having facilities for treatment of the disease."

The new act provides that patients who rely on spiritual means or prayer for healing will not be required to go to the hospital but will be restricted to their homes until they are free of the disease.

Its provisions take in only those carriers of contagious TB who leave their homes and go into public places.

There are no known violators of the new law within the county, Dr. Frantz said.

Always take along your sun glasses to shut out the bright glare.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

All the talk about eyes being the windows of the soul is not mere hearsay. Eyes speak for you . . . person-to-person in a language all their own. They not only reveal what's going on in your soul, but they tell with annoying accuracy the general state of being. Lack of sleep has its unattractive telltale signs such as dimming blue circles under the eyes, puffiness and dull, listless looking orbs.

So, if you want eyes that sparkle like the Hope diamond, get adequate sleep, and frequent eye rest. Don't overlook a balanced diet . . . and munch like a rabbit on raw carrots that have that important eye vitamin — A.

Keep your eyes wide open. Be interested in what goes on about you. That does a lot toward bringing a glint to your eyes and keeping it there. If you're alert and happy, the sparkle in your thoughts will reflect in your eyes.

If you need glasses, get them. Don't go around peering with squinting eyes or passing up friends because you can't see them. This form of vanity is foolish and passe. Help nature by avoiding eyestrain. Read in good light and always wear sun glasses to shut out glare.

Some of our most glamorous models and movie stars proudly flaunt their good-looking glasses in public . . . wearing them as a smart accessory to accent or match their costume. I have a special leaflet called "Glasses That Adorn" that is yours for the asking. Write to me, in care of this newspaper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Clear, radiant eyes will outshine less attractive features and put you in No. 1 place as far as facial interest goes.

Model Airplane Escapes Again

For the second consecutive year the long-distance flying model plane of a Cumberland man has taken off on a trip from the model airplane meet held at Hagerstown. Whyllis Robosson, 487 Central Avenue, took his plane, "The Flying Dutchman," named because of its disappearing ways, to the model meet Sunday with a new Atwood engine installed.

The Atwood replaced the Wasp engine that had taken the plane on two long trips last year.

However, two poor showings in the free flight events forced Robosson to put the Wasp engine back in service in his red-colored ship. The first flight with the old engine had "The Flying Dutchman" leaving the Hagerstown airport to break a window in the Fairchild Aircraft Plant.

After being patched up, "The Flying Dutchman" took off in a southeasterly direction and when last seen five minutes later it was going out of sight into the Leithersburg section of Washington county.

On June 20, 1954, the craft did a similar disappearing act and was recovered by a motorist about seven air miles from the Hagerstown airport. Three months later the plane was returned to Robosson. Then at a meet at Mexico Farms Airport, on September 29 the ship flew away over Warrior's mountain.

A squirrel hunter found the ship on the Yonker farm on the eastern slope of Warrior's mountain on miles, all on fuel enough to keep October 25. Figured on a map, the engine going seven seconds.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

In The Circuit Court For Allegany County, Maryland.

No. 24131 Equity. Leroy Miller, Cumberland, Maryland, vs. Margaret Grove, unmarried, Mary S. Evans, widow, and Althea G. Wimbrough, widow, all of 830 Woodcrest Avenue, New York 32, New York.

The object and purpose of this suit is to obtain a decree in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, appointing a Trustee to sell certain parcels of real estate in Cumberland, Allegany County, Maryland, owned as tenants in common by Leroy Miller, Margaret Grove, Mary S. Evans, widow, and Althea G. Wimbrough; all of the respondents herein to being non-residents of the State of Maryland and residents of the State of New York.

The Bill states that William C. Devenom died intestate seized and possessed of those parcels of real estate located in Cumberland, Maryland, and known and designated as Lots No. 29, 30, 34 and 43 of Laine's Estate and Lot No. 56 of Laine's Addition.

That title to said parcels of land became vested in the following heirs at law of William C. Devenom, deceased, namely: Minna S. Hutson, niece, undivided 1/6 interest; Elizabeth C. Hutson, niece, undivided 1/6 interest; Margaret Grove, niece, undivided 1/9 interest; Mary S. Evans, niece, undivided 1/9 interest; and Althea G. Wimbrough, niece, undivided 1/9 interest.

That thereafter in proceedings known as No. 2076 Miscellaneous in the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, W. A. Strother, Tax Collector, sold said properties to Leroy Miller and conveyed to him the same by deed, dated September 5, 1930, and recorded in Liber 230, folio 681, of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, which said interest he holds as a tenant in common with the respondents, who are each seized and possessed of an undivided one-ninth interest.

The Bill further states that the respondents are not susceptible of partition without material loss and injury to the parties entitled to the interests therein, and that, in order to make division of said interests, it will be necessary to have the real estate sold, and the proceeds divided amongst the parties according to their several interests.

The Bill then prays that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate and a division of the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto.

It is thereupon this 6th day of June, 1955, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, in Equity, ordered that notice be given Margaret Grove, Mary S. Evans and Althea G. Wimbrough, all non-residents of the State of Maryland, by causing a copy of this order to be published once a week for at least four consecutive weeks on or before the 7th day of July, 1955, in some newspaper published in Allegany County, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 25th day of July, 1955, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper.

Brushy Clan Buries Razor In Potomac

Torchlight Parade
Opens Kourt Session

Some 400 members of the Brothers of the Brush staged a torchlight parade here last night through downtown streets crowded by Monday night shoppers.

The spectacle was staged by members of the brushy clan in preparation for the burial of an oversized razor from the deck of the new Cumberland-Ridgeley bridge in Riverside Park.

Leading the delegation were Mayor Roy W. Eves, who has gray chin whiskers for the Bicentennial, and Col. F. Egerton Powell, chairman of the Bicentennial Steering Committee.

Marching to music of the Cumberland Brush Band were members of the Baltimore Avenue Hilly Bush Club and the Down in the Valley Club, along with unorganized members.

Committed To Deep

The delegation marched to the bridge, where the seven-foot razor, enclosed in a conventional rough box, was committed to the Potomac River with scant ceremony.

The parade was enlivened by the stockade, built of wire netting and mounted on a trailer, and by a Model T Ford truck, of 1919 vintage and chain driven, which was used by the Kangaroo Kops as their "paddy wagon."

Shortly before 9 p. m., the Brothers of the Brush set up their Kangaroo Kourt at the center of Baltimore and South Liberty Street.

There, the Most Unmerciful Judges, backed by a willing jury, committed to Ye Public Stocks several members of the Brothers of the Brush, including Charles B. Connor Jr., Michael Lippold and W. M. Elfritz, who stood too close to their razors over the weekend.

Relies On Hand

A number of members of the Bicentennial Belles, whose numbers had grown to 60 last night, witnessed the trial of the shaven brothers.

After holding the "hearings" in the downtown business section, the stockade was moved to South Cumberland where other offenders were tried and sentenced.

M. W. "Mack" Wilson, chairman, said membership in the brushy clan last night hit the 735 mark.

Yesterday afternoon, Mayor Eves paid a visit to the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant to display his chin whiskers to Edmund S. Burke, president.

Burke told the Mayor he was unable, because of the necessity of frequent business trips, to grow a beard but was encouraging Kelly employees to participate in the Bicentennial activity.

K. Of C. Forms Unit

Another chapter is being formed by members of Cumberland Council 596, Knights of Columbus.

This evening at 8:30 o'clock, an organizational meeting with an election of officers of the "Gay Blades" will be held in the lounge on the second floor of the local council home.

The new chapter plans to sponsor a softball team which will compete with other Brothers of the Brush. Also planned is a corn and wiener roast and a dance.

Officials said last night that two chapters of the Bicentennial Belles are being formed, and that women may register at Bicentennial Headquarters, opposite City Hall.

They said a supply of the petite bonnets which will be worn by the Belles are on hand and that permits are expected to arrive today. Information about Bicentennial events may be secured by visiting the center or by calling 4720.

Cavey Trial Is Postponed

The trial of Leo Cavey, 43, former Frostburg well-driller, who has been charged with murder and attempted robbery during May in Chardon, Ohio, scheduled to begin yesterday, has been postponed until the latter part of next month.

Cavey, according to authorities, has entered a plea of "not guilty by reason of insanity." Appearing in Common Pleas Court in Chardon with his counsel, Emmanuel H. McGregar, the defendant entered the plea before Judge Harold Richmond.

The former Frostburg resident is charged with beating to death 80-year-old Alva J. Williams, Chardon businessman on May 12. Williams body was found beneath several rocks three days after he was reported missing and Cavey admitted to police he beat him following an argument over a 90-cent coal bill Cavey apparently owed the elderly mill owner.

Beverly Reynolds Receives Hood College Scholarship

Miss Beverly Reynolds, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Reynolds, 29 Massachusetts Avenue, has received notification from Hood College that she has earned a four-year, senatorial scholarship to the Frederick institution.

A member of Fort Hill's a cappella choir, she also served in the YMCA, according to Clifton Van Roby, physical education director who was master of ceremonies.

Yet her vocal endeavors have not been Miss Reynolds' most important contributions to music at Fort Hill.

She is an accomplished pianist and also plays the saxophone, which she played in the school band. In her senior year Miss Reynolds served as student director and treasurer of the band and was a member of the Allegany County band organization.

She achieved a remarkable record in the annual Cumberland Follies, dancing for the first time 44 years ago when she was three years old, and continuing for 12 consecutive years.

In her senior class farewell assembly Miss Reynolds served as student director and choreographer and held similar positions in the annual Fort Hill May Day observance, when she was accompanist and also danced and sang. In her junior year she was vice president of the student council.

This term Miss Reynolds was a member of the Junior Town Meeting League, the Alpha Tri-Hi-Y, the yearbook staff, and was recognized for her creative ability as editor of the senior scrapbook.

An honor roll student, she was a member of the Fort Hill chapter of the National Honor Society. Among the awards she earned during the year included a second place rating in the city civil defense essay contest finals.

At commencement exercises the Cumberland Music and Arts Club medal was presented Miss Reynolds for the highest scholastic rating in her music courses and for her outstanding accomplishments in her varied activities.

MISS BEVERLY REYNOLDS

Dies Following Tractor Mishap

Lloyd Conrad, 50, of Rawlings, who was injured last week when the tractor he was operating along the Gerstell Road near Keyser overturned and threw him to the ground, died yesterday in Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser.

Conrad, a farmer employed by William Loar, Rawlings, was driving the tractor which was pulling a wagon. In order to maintain forward progress with the load he apparently attempted to shift into a lower gear.

The momentum of the vehicle gained force, and the tractor picked up speed. Conrad was thrown clear of both tractor and wagon as they overturned in a ditch along the road.

Conrad never regained consciousness.

He was a son of the late Amos and Florence (Barnes) Conrad. There are no immediate survivors.

A funeral service will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the Hafer Funeral Home, Rev. Raymond M. Crowe, pastor of Cresap town Methodist Church, officiating. Interment will be in Bier Cemetery, Rawlings.

Md. Assessors Plan To Start Annual Checks

Hear Pep Talk
For Yearly Action

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 27 (AP)—Maryland's county assessors, who will start Friday evaluating property on an annual basis, were given a pep talk today.

Cornelius P. Mundy, chairman of the State Tax Commission, urged them to do "everything possible to achieve uniformity of assessments."

Mundy spoke at the 10th annual School for Maryland Assessing Officers at the University of Maryland.

Five and three-year cycle systems of assessment will be discarded Friday under a bill passed by the 1955 General Assembly in favor of annual assessments.

Under the old system, parts of a county or Baltimore City were reappraised each year. However these new evaluations did not go into effect until the end of each cycle.

The new system will allow an assessor to go into any part of the county and make a reassessment which will go on the books without delay, Mundy said.

"You can step in and bring your assessments up to par," he told the assessors.

The amount of education funds the counties and Baltimore City receive from the State is based on property evaluations—the lower the evaluation, the more the grants.

As a result, Mundy said, several counties have kept their assessments low to cash in on the State aid formula.

"Tax laws must be administered fairly or the whole system will break down," he said. "And tax laws are too important to be mal-administered."

Another speaker backed up Mundy's talk. Dr. David W. Zimmerman, assistant State school superintendent, said high assessment counties and Baltimore City have had a "justifiable criticism" to make against those counties which pegged assessments low to get more State school aid.

"If we don't get equalized assessments," he warned, "we are going to have trouble with education bills (before the Legislature)."

He added, "Each time these bills come up there is discussion on whether State aid is distributed equitably."

Playground Holds Doll, Costume Events

Pine Avenue playground held two contests last night, its previously postponed doll show and the regularly scheduled costume contest.

In the doll show winners were picked in seven categories. They were Brenda Allen, largest; Woodrow Gordon Jr. and Cynthia Ashby, smallest; Rita Mann, prettiest; Sandra Washington, most unusual; Martha Broome, funniest; Lydia Plummer, most cuddlesome; and Frances Smith, largest collection, a group of 22 dolls.

Other winners were Martha and Benjamin Broome, funniest; Marcellus Wells and Deborah Beckward, most unusual; Sherry Beard and Francis Keyes, prettiest, and Danny Keyes and Gary Beckward, most original.

A talent show will be held Friday at 7:30 p. m. Cash prizes will be awarded to the first three winners. Following the talent hunt the weekly motion picture program will be shown.

Judges for the contests were Mrs. Gussie Martin, Mrs. Iantha Balls, and Harold Hilton Jr.

DR. H. T. BOWERSOX

Pastor Marks Anniversary At Church Here

Completes 30th
Year At St. Paul's

On Sunday morning during regular services, Dr. Hixon T. Bowersox observed his 30th anniversary as pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church at the corner of Baltimore and Centre Street.

He also marked his 45th year as a minister. Rev. Bowersox, who resides at 309 Washington Street, was licensed to preach in 1910 at Smithsburg, located in Washington County.

In 1911, he was ordained at College Church, Gettysburg, Pa. with Dr. J. B. Wolfe, president of the West Pennsylvania Synod, in charge of the ordination.

Blacksmith's Son

Rev. Bowersox, who is well pleased with his pastorate in Cumberland, was born in 1889 in Carroll County and is a son of a blacksmith.

His early education was received at the Sunnyside Academy in Uniontown. Later he attended New Windsor College where he graduated in 1908.

Seven years later, Rev. Bowersox graduated from the Theological Seminary in Gettysburg and received his Doctor of Divinity Degree from his alma mater in 1923.

His first pastorate was in Ross, Pa., where he was located five years. Later he went to York, Pa. where he served for 10 years.

During his pastorate there a new church was constructed in that city. In 1925, Rev. Bowersox came to Cumberland and was installed on the last Sunday of July of that year by Rev. Martin L. Enders, D. D., who was his predecessor at St. Paul's Lutheran Church here.

Church Merger

While in charge of the local church, Rev. Bowersox pointed out that a merger between St. Paul's and St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, at the corner of Union and Centre Streets, was realized.

There also were some improvements to the church on Baltimore Street.

One of the most important things which will occur during his pastorate at the local church will be the beginning of the construction of a proposed $200,000 educational building on the old Roman property on Washington Street.

Construction work, according to Rev. Bowersox, is expected to begin next Spring. He described the proposed edifice as a modern church and educational building.

While he has been pastor here, four local men have gone into the ministry. They are Rev. Harry Hall, of Denver, Colo.; Rev. Paul Gleichman, in Pennsylvania; Rev. Stanley Whitson, Clearspring, and Rev. William Ronald Fearer, a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg.

Rev. Bowersox is a son of the late Francis T. and Rachel Flickinger Bowersox. His wife, (Continued on Page 7, Col. 2)

Area Resident Jailed, Fined On Tax Evasion

Blaine H. Friend
Tried In Baltimore

BALTIMORE, June 27 (AP)—A Western Maryland businessman told Federal Judge Roszel C. Thomsen today he hadn't filed an income tax return for 1951 because he "didn't know how to keep books."

Blaine H. Friend, 40, of Accident in Garrett County, was sentenced to eight months in prison and fined $8,000.

Robert R. Bair, assistant U. S. attorney, described Friend as a lumberman and operator of a stock yard. He said Friend told Internal Revenue Service agents that he had not filed returns since 1944.

The Government claims the Garrett County man owes $50,960 in back taxes and penalties.

Bair said agents had computed that Friend made $7,500 in 1951, the year for which he was charged.

Friend testified he "didn't have any money at the end of the year" and didn't think he had to report anything to the revenue service.

Bair said Friend, the father of three children, grossed $93,000 from the lumber business last year. His prosecution is the first on tax charges in Garrett County, a tax agent said.

Student Trainee Joins SCS Staff On Job Here

West Virginian
Studies Science

Charles R. Coffman, Huntington, W. Va., a junior at West Virginia University, Morgantown, is a student trainee in soil science and has reported to Kenneth M. Stone, soil scientist at the Soil Conservation Service Office, 37 Washington Street.

He is a major in agriculture at the university. Coffman, who will spend the summer here getting "on the job" experience, expects to graduate at Morgantown next year.

A graduate of Huntington East High School, he served in the U. S. Marine Corps from 1949 until 1952. He will get training with Stone in Allegany and Garrett counties. Coffman will learn technical information on a soil conservation survey including soil types.

The objective of soil conservation, according to Stone, is the use of each acre of agricultural land within its capabilities and the land in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

George E. Clark, Ridgeley, was elected financial secretary and business agent, polling 56 of the 105 votes cast. Also seeking the business agent's post were James Flynn, Allan Fluke, Melvin Miller and Lewis L. Kreps, incumbent.

Elected to the Executive Board were James McGregor, Samuel Harrison, Charles C. Clark, Robert Ott and Melvin Miller.

Trustees will be Paul Flanigan, John Barthlow and George Heinrich.

Examining Board—Paul Flanigan, John R. Clark and Charles C. Clark, Clark, with 33 votes, tied with William College, who withdrew.

Elected judges of elections were Leo A. Wolfe, Frank White and Ralph Riggelman.

The officers will be installed at a meeting July 16 at 8 p. m., according to Malone, who was unopposed as president of the Cumberland local of the International Association of Bridge, Structural and Ornamental Iron Workers.

Bloodmobile Visits County Next Week

The Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit will make its regular visit to this county early next month.

The unit will operate in Cumberland at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street from 1 to 6 p. m. on Tuesday, July 5. The following day, the unit will be at the VFW home in Lonaconing during the same hours.

Recruiting of blood donors for the visit at both places has been underway for several days, and all persons who can donate a pint of blood each, are urged to do so. The demand for blood at the hospitals in this county remains high, and the need for blood in the Armed Forces and veterans hospitals is a continuing problem.

Red Cross officials here said it is not necessary to have an appointment and walk-in volunteers will be welcomed at both the local and Lonaconing collection centers.

New Officers Exchange Club

These are the newly installed officers of the Cumberland Exchange Club as seen at their installation ceremony and the ladies night observance at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Left to right are George Shallenberger, treasurer; Edward J. Carey, secretary; Walter Gattrell, vice president; Samuel Clingan, president, and Max Carzzo, of Baltimore, district governor who was installing officer.
